The Academic Experience

With outstanding professors and small class sizes, UMSL provides beneficial student-faculty interactions. And with renowned researchers on our faculty, students have valuable opportunities to assist with research.

UMSL Jazz Combo members listen to tales from behind the music of jazz legend Benny Golson.

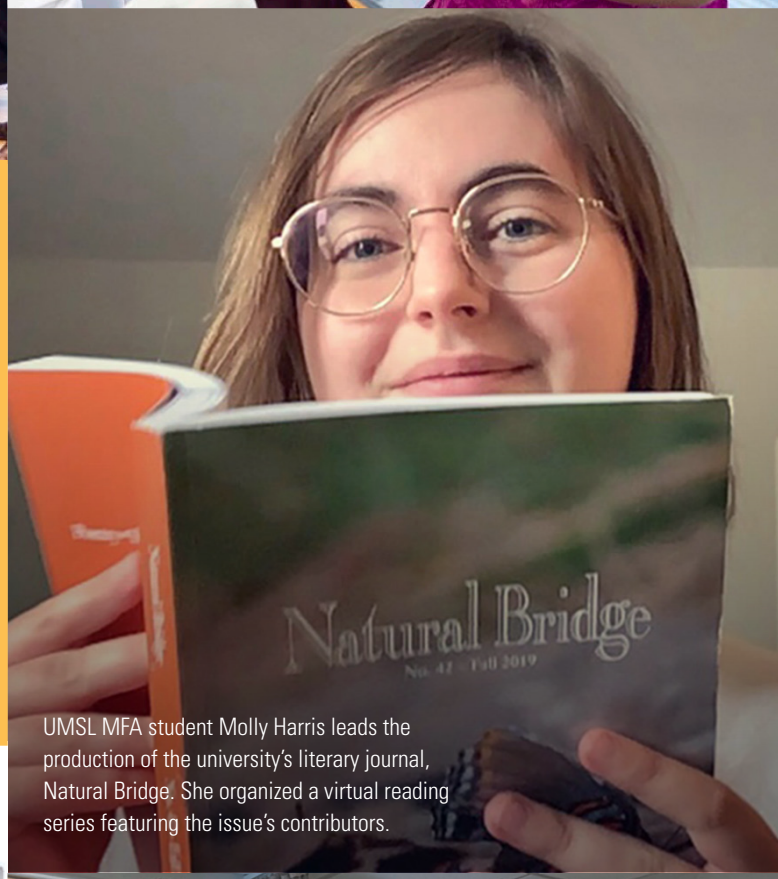
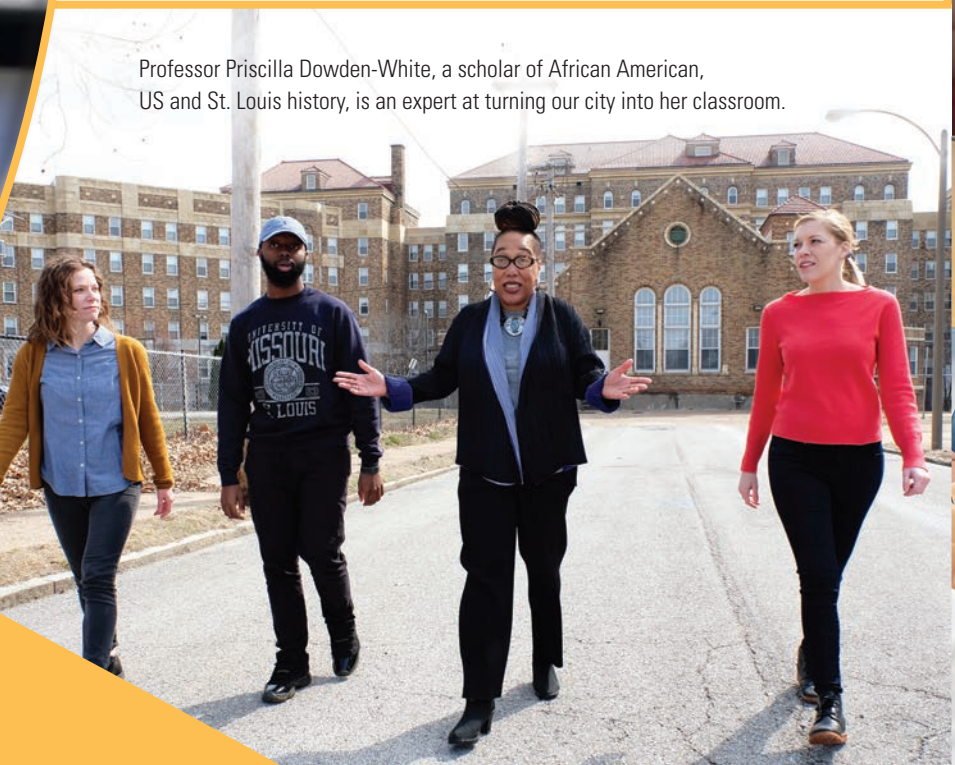
Some of your best learning will happen outside the classroom: in a hands-on lab, on a stage, in the middle of the city, at a partner site or online. UMSL classrooms can be anywhere.



UMSL MFA student Molly Harris leads the production of the university's literary journal, Natural Bridge. She organized a virtual reading series featuring the issue's contributors.

Professor Priscilla Dowden-White, a scholar of African American, US and St. Louis history, is an expert at turning our city into her classroom.



The study abroad programs at UMSL provide International Business students the opportunity to experience unique cultures and businesses of other countries.

Ameren CEO and UMSL alum Warner Baxter regularly mentors students in UMSL Accelerate, an entrepreneurial-focused program in the College of Business Administration.

Hands-on learning

From undergraduate research opportunities to class assignments that connect you to the community – and from real-world internships and service projects to study abroad experiences in another country, UMSL learning happens in action.

Professor Mike Behle engages his art students with real-life learning by taking them on an annual trip to NYC every spring to visit galleries and speak with working artists.

ADMISSIONS REQUIREMENTS

FIRST-TIME COLLEGE STUDENTS

All first-time college students must complete the required core curriculum in high school in order to meet the university's admission requirements:

17 UNITS OF HIGH SCHOOL CREDIT (1 UNIT = 1 YEAR IN CLASS)*

4 units of English
4 units of Mathematics (Algebra 1 or higher)
3 units of Science (must include a lab science; cannot include general science)
3 units of Social Science
1 unit of Fine Arts
2 units of a single Foreign Language

 Individual programs may choose to impose additional requirements for admission.*

First-time college applicants for the fall 2021 term have the option of being reviewed with or without test scores due to the impacts of COVID-19. Choosing an application review without test scores will mean your admissibility will be determined by a committee. To be considered for admission without standardized test scores you must have a 3.0 core GPA. The committee will require a personal statement and official high school transcripts. A student may also submit a resume and letters of recommendation from high school teachers, administrators and/or guidance counselors, however these are not required for consideration. Learn more at umsl.edu/go/test_optional.

Regular admission requires a minimum combination of class rank percentile and standardized test scores (ACT or SAT). Students applying from high schools that do not rank will be evaluated on a combination of high school grade point average and standardized test scores.

Students with an ACT composite of 24 or higher, SAT total [CR+M] of 1090 or higher or redesigned SAT of 1160 or higher meet the requirements for admission. Students with an ACT composite score of 17-23, an SAT total [CR+M] score of 820-1080, or a redesigned SAT of 900-1150 need the following class rank percentile or GPA:

ACT	SAT total [CR+M] (Pre-March 2016)	Redesigned SAT (Post-March 2016)	Class Rank	Core GPA
23	1050-1080	1130-1150	Top 52%	2.80
22	1020-1400	1100-1120	Top 46%	2.90
21	980-1010	1060-1090	Top 38%	3.05
20	940-970	1020-1050	Top 31%	3.20
19	900-930	980-1010	Top 22%	3.35
18	860-890	940-970	Top 14%	3.50
17	820-850	900-930	Top 6%	3.65

Students with an ACT composite score less than 17, a SAT total [CR+M] less than 820, or a redesigned SAT below 900 do not meet the minimum requirements for admission. Students who do not meet the minimum requirements may submit a letter of appeal to the Admission Appeals Committee for further consideration.

TRANSFER STUDENTS

Students transferring with 24 credit hours or more of post-high school, college-level coursework must have a minimum 2.3 grade point average across all courses at previous institutions to qualify for admission. Students transferring with fewer than 24 credit hours need to meet the requirements for first-time college students.
