BMIHMS THREE PILLAR APPROACH

Whatever career path you seek, our courses will help you become a highly motivated, sought-after, critical-thinking professional who is valued by employers.

BMIHMS believes in delivering an educational curriculum that balances skills training, academic study and professional development.

Our courses combine university-level teaching with mentoring and individual coaching by industry professionals.

Our teaching and learning philosophy is based on:

THE THREE PILLAR APPROACH

1. Professional and Personal Growth
2. Practical Skills Development
3. Academic Achievement

This philosophy is the foundation of all our practices.

The thousands of successful graduates we have educated using these principles are proof that it works.

INDUSTRY EXPERIENCE

- > There are two 6-month industry placements/practicums in the undergraduate courses and one 6-month industry placement/practicum in the masters courses.
- > Placements can be undertaken in Australia or abroad. They ensure that our students are well prepared to work after graduating.
- > Industry placements in hotels and restaurants in Australia can be paid. Students can earn from AU$10,000 over 6 months.

ACCREDITATION AND RECOGNITIONS

- > National accreditation by the Tertiary Education Quality and Standards Agency (TEQSA). TEQSA is Australia's independent regulator of the higher education sector.
- > Recognised by THE-ICE, EUHOF, ISES, MEA, CAUTHE and the Institute of Hospitality.
- > Ranked the Number 1 Hotel Management School in Australia and Asia Pacific (TNS 2013).
- > Winner of the 2014 National Tourism Award.

PRACTICAL TRAINING

The simulated hotel and restaurant environment on Leura campus combines theory and practical learning. Facilities include 3 styles of restaurants, a state-of-the-art housekeeping demonstration lab, a premium hotel-style front office a cocktail bar/wine appreciation area and coffee carts. These facilities allow students to practice their skills before starting their industry placements.

TEACHING AND LEARNING

Recruiters in the hospitality industry actively seek BMIHMS graduates because of the tailored content of our courses, our outstanding international reputation and our strong business affiliations with major hotel chains.

BUSINESS AND MANAGEMENT

BMIHMS provides business degrees; you will graduate with much more than operational skills. When you graduate, you will be ready to lead teams, supervise and inspire others, and be well equipped to move into managerial roles.

Our courses prepare you for analytic and strategic positions in many departments, including finance, marketing and human resources.

OPPORTUNITIES TO STUDY ABROAD

- > International transfer or semester abroad options are available in Switzerland, Spain, USA, Malaysia and China through the Laureate Hospitality Education network and the BMIHMS international programs network. TEQSA has approved the accreditation of International Hotel and Resort Management for delivery at STFI in China and INTI in Malaysia.

MASTER | INTERNATIONAL HOTEL MANAGEMENT

Unit name	Unit description
MHC 601 Accounting and Finance for Managers	Managerial accounting is designed to meet the specific needs of a company's financial management. Students are exposed to company historical data and asked to provide objective measures for operations and appropriate financial decision-making. Through a practical understanding of financial and managerial reports students learn to recognise, measure, evaluate and compare the financial performance of different business operations.
MHC 602 Introduction to the Hospitality Industry	This unit develops a lasting appreciation of how hospitality fits within society and the business environment with an emphasis on the development of practical managerial skills (focusing specifically on food and beverage services) underpinned by the theoretical knowledge required to manage a hotel.
MHC 603 Hotel Operations Management	The primary function of a hotel is to provide accommodation. As a key revenue centre, selling the products and services requires dedication and a quality commitment by frontline staff. Hotel Operations Management explores conventional operations theory and practice to empower students to deliver expert hotel accommodation services, underpinned by the theoretical knowledge required to manage a hotel room division department.
MHC 604 Revenue Management	Revenue Management is a critical component of a hotel's business model in order to maximise profitability. Effective revenue managers must understand: market segmentation, distribution channels, inventory management, strategy and financial management. Students will be exposed to the history and theories of revenue management, and its connections with other functions in the broader business, using examples from a variety of industries.
MHC 605 Human Resources Management	Creating managers who have an overwhelming desire to identify, attract, recruit, on-board, deploy, retain and reward in a manner that is fair, ethical and profitable is the key focus of Human Resource Management. Students will explore the international context of human resources theory and practice with a focus on concepts, processes and practices associated with managing people in the 21st century.
MHC 606 Business Law	Business Law examines the processes by which law is created, changed and applied to the business environment. Students will develop a working knowledge of international and Australian legal systems that will enable them to operate a business profitably and within the law.
MHC 607 Business Research Methods	An essential component of decision-making in business is research. Business Research Methods familiarises students with the advanced skills and knowledge required for completing research projects at the post-graduate level and for making high quality business decisions. Specific attention is given to the process of planning, data collection techniques, analysis, interpretation and presentation of research.
MHC 608 Business Ethics for Hospitality	Business Ethics for Hospitality aims to develop an appreciation of the ethical, social and moral issues relating to the development and operation of businesses, specifically hotels. This unit will consider the influences affecting businesses (specifically international hotel properties) and the individual manager's approach to ethical and social issues.
MHC 609 MANAGEMENT PRACTICUM 760 Hours	Industry Practicum energises and supports the student in their pursuit of practical operational and leadership skills during an external placement from the School within a hotel organisation. Students will be able to link their studies to the workplace environment, optimise their career pathway and meet industry expectations.
MHC 610 Strategic Hotel Management	Strategy is a broad formula for how a business is going to compete, what its goals should be, and what policies are needed to carry out those goals. Strategic Hotel Management introduces students to a set of contemporary strategy concepts, theories and practices to help them think and act critically and creatively to solve business problems both now and in the future.
MHC 611 Independent Research Project	In this capstone unit, students have the opportunity to demonstrate the core attributes of written communication, information literacy, logical and critical thinking. This is achieved by completing a substantive piece of independent research, based on a chosen business problem or a contemporary topic.
MHE 612 (E) Business Events in a Global Context	Events contribute to international economies through job creation and by bringing money into a destination. Business Events in a Global Context aims to develop students' knowledge, skills and abilities to astutely examine the global economic, social, political and environmental influences impacting the players and entities of business events.
MHE 613 (E) Conventions Management	Meetings, incentive travel, conventions and exhibitions (MICE) represent a segment of the tourism industry that has grown exponentially and is now very profitable. A key focus of this subject is providing an overview of the environment of the MICE industry. Students are guided through the complexities associated with planning, managing and staging a variety of conventions.
MHE 614 (E) Sustainability and the Environment	Environmental Sustainability involves making decisions and taking action in the interest of protecting the natural world with particular emphasis on building organisational capability, practices and processes. Students will be introduced to the impacts that hotels have on our natural environments and are encouraged to explore strategies hotels can develop to be more sustainable.
MHE 615 (E) E-Marketing	Explores the implications that are inherent in the choice, utilisation and application of interactive electronic technologies to innovative e-marketing strategies that will define new markets, attract and engage new customers and create business opportunities.
MHE 616 (E) New Product and Service Development	The development and commercialisation of new products and services is a core business function for most organisations. The purpose of this course is to develop a solid understanding of new product and service development from a strategic marketing and management perspective, as well as reinforcing practice and reflection in an action oriented setting.
MHE 617 (E) Marketing Management	This subject covers integrated marketing mix planning and control in the local and international context of marketing strategy formulation. The subject considers marketing strategy as a link between corporate strategy, business unit strategy, and marketing mix management. It does so by developing and critically assessing thematic marketing strategies as sources of sales from the standpoints of growth, market share and profitability of a multinational firm.
MHE 618 (E) Special Topic in Hotel Management	This subject has been included to facilitate further private study by the student in an area of particular interest to them in hospitality marketing, human resource management, hotel operations and or sustainability.
MHE 619 (E) Minor Research Project	Culminating in the submission of a small-scale research report students engage with an international business problem or issue. The report includes appropriate and relevant literature, the use of suitable research method and problem solving techniques, and appropriate outcomes and recommendations.

Why study Global Business Management?

Today's business environment is becoming increasingly global and complex with a customer service focus. Digital and online communication, global distribution channels and global finance systems have removed physical and geographic boundaries. Successful multinationals, especially related to hospitality or customer service, such as large hotel chains, luxury retail, consumer banking or insurance operate in different countries, across different time zones.

Master of Global Business Management offers:

- A focus on strategic corporate services in the hospitality industry
- A postgraduate qualification preferably for those with a background in hospitality
- No applied/operational units
- Professional experience after 1.5 years of study (Work Integrated Learning)

Career opportunities

There is an enormous range of positions related to global business management especially given the international nature of the hospitality industry. You may enter a marketing department as a brand assistant, account manager or event coordinator; a finance department as a business analyst or corporate finance assistant; as well as the retail sector as a merchandise manager, purchaser or marketing co-ordinator.

You may also use the entrepreneurial skills and knowledge you gain to open your own business or act as a consultant.

MASTER | GLOBAL BUSINESS MANAGEMENT

Unit name	Unit description
GBM 901 The Global Mindset	The focus of the 'Global Mindset' will encourage students to critically consider the role and challenges of managers working across the globe. This subject develops students' understanding of cultural and behavioural issues affecting managerial and employee performance including motivation, negotiation and the characteristics of leadership.
GBM 902 The Global Organisation	Creating interconnections around the globe is an integral part of business today. The emphasis in Global Organisation is to teach students the importance of valuing diversity between stakeholders. Students will explore key forces driving global business, including: history, social inequality, politics, and opportunities versus risks, cultural and technological dimensions.
GBM 903 Strategic Awareness	Strategic Awareness builds students' knowledge, skills and abilities to generate and justify strategies required to enter foreign marketplaces. Industry attractiveness, financial sustainability and environmental scanning techniques are the key focus of this subject.
GBM 904 Entrepreneurship and Innovation Studies	Visionary attitudes can transform existing organisations through commercialising new ideas. Students will examine and apply concepts with key theories relating to entrepreneurship and new ideas. This subject provides a platform for understanding and implementing innovation strategies in organisations.
GBM 905 Global Projects	Project management is a fundamental part of global organisations. This unit discusses the key principles influencing effective management of projects and their teams. Through the application of knowledge, skills and management techniques, students will learn to execute projects effectively and efficiently. Students will connect project results to business goals, enhancing competitive advantage.
GBM 906 The Global Economy	The nature of economic forces impacting firms in the global business environment is the key discussion point in this unit. Students will critically examine the changing global economy and global financial markets enabling them to pinpoint potential future peaks and troughs in the business climate. This is critical information for leadership and high-end decision-making.
GBM 907 Ethics and Business	Business ethics is a hotly debated issue. This unit demands that students review, evaluate and justify ethical practices within their decision-making. Students will be introduced to the principles and applications of global ethical theories and how they relate to a variety of business operations across the globe and multi-cultures.
GBM 908 Financial Decision-making	Financial decision-making equips students to assess operational risk, create value and use a variety of financial information to make decisions. Students will be introduced to the global financial structure, strategic financial planning, group profitability, tax liability and maximisation, encouraging them to be mindful of the bottom line.
GBM 914 Research Methods	The research process is an essential component of decision making in the business world. Through the acquisition of skills and practical tools to undertake and complete research projects, students are guided through the steps of the research process, specifically: planning, data collection techniques, analysis, interpretation and presentation of research.
GBM 910 (E) Marketing Across Borders	Marketing tactics and strategies can face challenges unique to the size and structure of the global organisation. Case studies will provide students with the theories and practical applications of international marketing. Students will gain a detailed understanding of how political, environmental, social, economic, technological and legal drivers influence global marketing strategy.
GBM 911 (E) Resilient Business	In today's global business environment successful organisations rely on environmentally and socially conscious employees. Students will critically analyse the concept of sustainable development and its application in global business. Students will also learn to evaluate the changing nature of global business trends, specifically in the environmental and social justice sphere.
GBM 912 (E) Negotiation and Conflict Resolution	Negotiation and Conflict Resolution are essential leadership skills for global business. Students will learn to identify their own personal negotiation style, and how to resolve dilemmas such as conflict of interest; honesty and trust, enabling them to better develop their leadership skills. Practical insights into organisational behaviour and its relationship with negotiation and conflict will be explored.
GBM 913 (E) Evaluating Technology for Global Business	Understanding knowledge transfer and how it takes place through technology, as an enabler for business strategy, is fundamental to creating competitive advantage. The focus of this investigative subject explores how technology can improve efficiency, effectiveness, transparency and reporting to enhance business operations.
GBM 915 (E) Major Project	Culminating in the submission of a small-scale research report, the 'major project' requires students to engage with an international business problem or issue of their choice. The report includes identifying and applying appropriate and relevant literature, the use of suitable research methods, problem solving techniques, and appropriate outcomes and recommendations.
GBM 916 (E) Global Human Resource Management	Global Human Resource Management engages students to explore, within an international context, human resources theory and practice with a focus on the key concepts, processes, practices, issues and debates associated with the development and management of a 21st century workforce.
GBM 917 (E) Transnational Business Law	Transnational Business Law requires students to explore the complex matrix of international business laws that will have a profound impact on international business opportunities. Students will learn to appreciate that business laws are often fraught with risk, requiring astute responses to cultural, political and economic characteristics of specific countries.
MHE 615 (E) E-Marketing	E-Marketing explores the implications inherent in the selection, use and application of interactive electronic technologies. Students will be exposed to innovative e-marketing strategies that define new markets, attract and engage new customers and create business opportunities.
MHE 616 (E) New Products and Service Development	The development and commercialisation of new products and services is a core business function. This subject demonstrates how successful businesses can and should use customer experiences to inform and shape the product development process from the initial concept to its release into the marketplace.
GBM 909 WORK INTEGRATED LEARNING	Work Integrated Learning (WIL) is a unique opportunity for students to combine professional experience with their qualifications working within a globally operating organisation. WIL provides an excellent opportunity for students to develop knowledge, skills and abilities in their chosen discipline.

YOUR CAREER

NOW AND BEYOND GRADUATION

BMIHMS does not just provide students with an education. We also give you a pathway to a successful working life. The opportunities available to you and networks you create while studying with us are designed to last a lifetime

GRADUATE PRIVILEGED PARTNERS

Graduate Privileged Partners (GPP) is a competitive recruitment program designed to connect our highest achieving final year students with a select group of industry partners. It provides a unique opportunity for the hospitality industry to recruit our top graduates.

With strict criteria for academic performance, practical skills training and industry experience and evaluation, successful candidates are selected and recommended to industry partners for their suitability for corporate management traineeship programs on graduation.

This enables an in-depth relationship between students and potential employers, far beyond the normal interview process. It results in greater certainty for both parties about commitment and quality.

The GPP is conducted over several months, always in the student's final academic year. The student will undergo personal interviews, familiarisation and induction sessions. Our industry partners make the final selection to fill positions in their graduate and corporate management programs or for a role with their company that provides secure career growth prospects.

CONNECTING BMIHMS STUDENTS WITH INDUSTRY PARTNERS AND ALUMNI

Whether postgraduate or undergraduate, BMIHMS students will have regular access to hospitality professionals. During biannual GPP expos held on campus, students are introduced to recruitment and face-to-face networking.

The BMIHMS Leadership Speaker Series creates panel discussions open for student interaction and questions. The Alumni Mentoring Program singles out passionate students who are driven to success providing them with industry guidance.

Regular opportunities are open to BMIHMS students to volunteer. Gala events, black tie evenings, charity auctions, community events all expose students to new experiences and networking scenarios.

WATCH YouTube, BlueMountainsCast. to view a GPP Expo, the BMIHMS Leadership Speakers Series, current students and alumni sharing their stories online.

"We are very excited to be part of the Graduate Privileged Partners program as it formalises a long relationship with the Blue Mountains International Hotel Management School.

We are prepared to dedicate a significant proportion of our management traineeships to this program. BMIHMS is producing such high calibre graduates - decision-makers who accept accountability and can adapt on the run. We know they won't let us down."

CAREER ADVICE AND ASSISTANCE

BMIHMS has a Career Development Department on both campuses. This team is dedicated to helping you become workplace ready. Their key role is to guide and assist you in finding suitable industry placement positions.

To fulfill your course requirements, you must apply for and accept one of the recommended positions in Australia or abroad. You must also meet the position selection criteria and pass a job interview with each employer. The Career Development team will help you to prepare and grow the professional skills you need for employment.

STUDENT ACCESS TO INDUSTRY CONTACTS

BMIHMS Career Development Department gives you access to our database of more than 10,000 hiring managers. We have strong contacts in hotels, resorts, events companies and other tourism employers throughout Australia and the world. Our on-going contact with graduates in the industry, through our worldwide alumni network, also strengthens our professional networks.

"The program gives you a huge incentive to perform well, both during school and during practicum, in order to access the program. It is highly sought after amongst the student body."

Stephanie Greve

Student Recipient

OUR CAMPUSES

LEURA Practical Learning Centre

- > The Leura campus is located in the Blue Mountains, 90 minutes drive from Sydney. As one of Australia's top tourist destinations it provides students with an extended classroom for their studies.
- > Leura is a residential campus. Students live and study in a simulated hotel environment. This enables them to develop within a close knit international student community, while focusing on a diverse range of applied units of study.

SYDNEY Executive Business Centre

- > Our non-residential executive campus is located in the heart of Sydney. The campus boasts state-of-the-art teaching facilities in a modern, corporate environment.
- > Sydney is Australia's leading tourism and events destination, attracting more international business and holiday visitors than any other Australian city. Its physical beauty; vibrant creative energy; and iconic attractions such as the Sydney Opera House and Sydney Harbour Bridge have secured its status as Australia's global city.
- > Sydney campus offers our students many tourism-related career and networking opportunities. The close proximity to international hotel chains, restaurants and global businesses combined with BMIHMS's partnerships with major industry players makes this an ideal location to pursue a professional career in hospitality management and business.
